The Impact of Rome on the British Countryside

A conference organized by the Royal Archaeological Institute, Chester, 11–13 October 2013

Edited by David J. Breeze

THE ROYAL ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE
The Impact of Rome on the British Countryside

Preface
DAVID HINTON

Introduction
DAVID J. BREEZE

Re-assessing the Transformation of Rural Society in the Roman Rhineland
NICO ROYMANS

The Wroxeter Hinterland Project: Exploring the Relationship between Country and Town
ROGER WHITE

The Iron Age to Anglo-Saxon Landscape of the Vale of Pickering
DOMINIC POWLESLAND

The Complexity of Roman Impact on a Local Scale: Studies from East Yorkshire
MARTIN MILLETT

Rural Settlement in the Northern Frontier Zone: the Impact of Hadrian’s Wall
NICK HODGSON

The Birth of a Capital? Bagendon ‘Oppidum’ and the Impact of Rome on the Southern Cotswolds
TOM MOORE

The Portable Antiquities Scheme and the Romano-British Countryside
JOHN PEARCE AND SALLY WORRELL

Developer Archaeology and the Romano-British Countryside: A Revolution in Understanding
MICHAEL FULFORD AND NEIL HOLBROOK

A View from the East: the Impact of Rome on Rural Landscapes in Romania
JOANA A. OLTEN

Thinking about the Romano-British Countryside: a Post Conference Synopsis
BRIAN K. ROBERTS

Envoi
DAVID J. BREEZE